

Friends' History

The Friends formed in 2000 to engage library patrons, the community, and organizations interested in books in programs and services that support the library and encourage literacy. In 2001, the group obtained incorporation from the State of Ohio and registered their 501c(3) status with the IRS as a non-profit organization.

Throughout their history, the organization has provided support to the library.

June Fry, Board Member of the Friends of New Carlisle Public Library said, "I've always loved books and being around the library."

If you feel the same way, consider joining the Friends.

New Carlisle Public Library

The New Carlisle Public Library is open to all. Everyone has equal access to materials and services, regardless of income. We provide resources to local business, schools, churches and civic organizations.

We build citizenship, complement formal education, and facilitate thoughtful interaction among community members.

Our services include access to test preparation software and FAFSA applications, meeting rooms, eBooks, interlibrary loans, notary public, internet and computer access, and reference assistance.

The library also has many enrichment programs available to both adults and children.

The Friends' Projects

The Friends provide funds to support numerous programs for library patrons of all ages. We raise money through membership dues, book bag sales, semi-annual book sales and donations.

Past projects include:

- Microfilmed copies of New Carlisle Sun
- Supported library expansion through building purchase
- Purchased library sign
- Purchased shed for donated books
- Purchased Samsung Tablets
- Helped replace library carpet
- Paid for Adult and Children's Programs
- Purchased materials for Children's Library
- Purchased Receipt Printers
